CSUSB to honor Class of 2026 at Spring Commencement ceremonies

PALM DESERT, Calif. – Cal State San Bernardino, including its Palm Desert Campus, will celebrate the achievements of the Class of 2026 with a series of commencement ceremonies set for Friday and Saturday, May 15-16, at Toyota Arena in Ontario. All ceremonies will be held in person and livestreamed.

The festivities begin Friday, May 15, with two ceremonies hosted by the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The 1:30 p.m. ceremony will honor graduates from child development, economics, ethnic studies, political science and psychology. The evening ceremony at 6 p.m. will recognize graduates from the schools of criminology and criminal justice and social work, and the departments of anthropology, geography and environmental studies, history, social sciences, and sociology.

Commencement continues Saturday, May 16, with a full day of ceremonies. The morning begins at 9 a.m. with graduates from the College of Arts and Letters and the James R. Watson and Judy Rodriguez Watson College of Education. The Jack H. Brown College of Business and Public Administration will follow at 1:30 p.m., with the College of Natural Sciences closing out the celebration during the 6 p.m. ceremony.

As part of the weekend's events, the university will award honorary degrees to two distinguished alumni. Yolanda T. Moses, a nationally recognized leader in higher education and renowned anthropologist, will receive an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters at the commencement ceremony on Friday, May 15, at 6 p.m. William M. Stevenson, a longtime banking professional, educator and dedicated supporter of CSUSB, will also be honored with an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters at the commencement ceremony on Saturday, May 16, at 1:30 p.m.

The Toyota Arena is located at 4000 E. Ontario Center Parkway in Ontario.
