

PREGNANCY LEAVE

COMPLAINTS MUST BE FILED WITHIN ONE YEAR OF THE LAST ACT OF DISCRIMINATION

FILING A COMPLAINT

THE MISSION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FAIR EMPLOYMENT AND HOUSING IS TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA FROM UNLAWFUL DISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT, HOUSING AND PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS, AND FROM THE PERPETRATION OF ACTS OF HATE VIOLENCE AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING.

If you believe you are a victim of discrimination you may, within one year of the discrimination, file a complaint of discrimination with the Department of Fair Employment and Housing by following these steps:

- ① Contact DFEH by using the information on the back of this brochure
- ② Be prepared to present specific facts about the alleged discrimination or denial of leave
- ③ Keep records and provide copies of documents that support the charges in the complaint, such as paycheck stubs, calendars, correspondence and other potential proof of discrimination

DFEH will conduct an impartial investigation. We represent the State of California. DFEH will, if possible, try to assist both parties to resolve the complaint.

If a voluntary settlement cannot be reached, and there is sufficient evidence to establish a violation of the law, DFEH may issue a civil complaint and litigate the case in state or federal court.

If the court decides in favor of the complaining party, remedies may include reinstatement, back pay, reasonable attorney's fees and costs, damages for emotional distress, and punitive damages.

The Fair Employment and Housing Act (FEHA), enforced by the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing (DFEH), contains provisions relating to pregnancy leave. These provisions cover all employers with five or more full or part time employees.

In addition, there are certain leave and transfer protections and guarantees provided under the FEHA and the California Family Rights Act (CFRA).

All employers must provide information about pregnancy leave rights to their employees and post information about pregnancy leave rights in a conspicuous place where employees tend to gather. Employers who provide employee handbooks must include information about pregnancy leave in the handbook.

IT IS UNLAWFUL FOR AN EMPLOYER TO DISCRIMINATE IN TERMS OF COMPENSATION, CONDITIONS, OR PRIVILEGES OF EMPLOYMENT BECAUSE OF PREGNANCY, CHILDBIRTH, OR RELATED MEDICAL CONDITIONS

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS

LEAVE REQUIREMENTS

- An employee disabled by pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition is entitled to up to four months of disability leave per pregnancy. If the employer provides more than four months of leave for other types of temporary disabilities, the same leave must be made available to employees who are disabled due to pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition.
- Leave can be taken before or after birth during any period of time the employee is physically unable to work because of pregnancy or a pregnancy-related condition. All leave taken in connection with a specific pregnancy counts toward computing the four-month period.
- Pregnancy leave is available when an employee is actually disabled. This includes time off needed for prenatal or postnatal care, severe morning sickness, doctor-ordered bed rest, childbirth, recovery from childbirth, loss or end of pregnancy, or any other related medical condition.
- If an employee is disabled as the result of a condition related to pregnancy, childbirth, or associated medical conditions and requests reasonable accommodation upon the advice of the employee's health-care provider, an employer must provide reasonable accommodation.
- As an accommodation, and with advice of a physician, an employee can request transfer to a less strenuous or hazardous position or duties because of the employee's pregnancy.
- Employees are entitled to take pregnancy disability leave in addition to any leave entitlement they might have under CFRA. For example, an employee could take up to four months pregnancy disability leave for any period of disability, and also take up to 12 weeks CFRA leave to bond with the baby; to bond with an adopted child; or to care for a parent, spouse, or child with a serious health condition. CFRA leave may also be taken for the employee's own serious health condition. For more information, see DFEH's brochure entitled "California Family Rights Act."
- If possible, an employee must provide their employer with at least 30 days advance notice of the date for which the pregnancy disability leave or accommodation is sought and the estimated duration of the leave or accommodation.
- If 30 days advance notice is not possible due to a change in circumstances or a medical emergency, notice must be given as soon as practicable. The leave may be modified as an employee's changing medical condition dictates. If the reinstatement date differs from the original agreement, or if no agreement was made, an employer must reinstate the employee within two business days of being given notice that the employee intends to return. When two business days are not feasible, reinstatement must be made as soon as possible to expedite the employee's return.

SALARY AND BENEFITS DURING LEAVE

- Employers who provide health insurance coverage for employees who take leave for other temporary disabilities must provide coverage for employees who take leave for pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.
- An employer may require an employee to use accrued sick leave during any unpaid portion of their pregnancy disability leave. The employee may also use vacation leave credits to receive compensation for which the employee is eligible. But an employer may not require an employee to use vacation leave or other accrued time off during pregnancy disability leave.

RETURN RIGHTS

- It is illegal for an employer to fire an employee because that employee is pregnant or taking pregnancy disability leave. Employers are required by law to reinstate employees to the same position those employees had before taking leave, and an employee may request this guarantee in writing. In some situations, an employee may be reinstated to a position that is comparable (same tasks, skills, benefits, and pay) to the job they had before taking PDL.
- However, pregnancy disability leave does not protect employees from employment actions not related to their pregnancy, such as layoffs.
